Home Garden Proposal Winning Wide Support 1948 Planting

Secretary of Agriculture Calls on Nation to Meet Food Needs by Renewal of War-Time Program;

Garden club leaders, horticulturists, and specialty societies were quick to voice their approval of the resumption of Victory Gardening.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson urged nation-wide adoption of the "Peace Gardening" plan yesterday in a statement which said: "The nation's home gardeners can continue to help meet the critical world needs for food. The substantial contribution home gardeners can make in increasing the domestic food supply was proved during the war years.

20,000,000 Gardens Is Goal

"Twenty million freedom gardens is recommended as a minimum goal for 1948. The produce from these gardens can take the place of many foods vitaly needed for export.

"By helping himself to meet increasing living costs, the home gardener will be helping his own community to make a precious contribution to a hungry world."

Leaders from forty-one states will meet in convention, a plan will be formulated to prepare our organization for growing food in this emergency."

Whether it is called Victory Gardening, Peace Gardening or Freedom Gardening, indications point to its resumption, and the combined efforts of the gardening and horticultural interests of the country, working in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture, should make a winning combination.

MR. DEALER

1947 CROP FORECAST

Nov. 1st, '47

Fully realizing that our customers, in order to market their seeds intelligently, should be brought up to date as to the general conditions of the past summer.

Taking all vegetable seeds into consideration, and giving a complete report on each and every variety, would necessitate much space. Even then the actual delivery could not be ascertained. However, we have gathered from our growing areas the reports from our many fieldmen, as given to our headquarters at Milford, and are passing it along to you in a general way.

Please understand that many of these crops have just been harvested. Only a small percentage has been processed and germinations been taken, so though we report some items as expected pro-rata delivery, conditions at the completion of the work may bring better delivery.

As a whole, the season for the past year has been reasonably good with a few important exceptions. We find that with the government support price, and the high prices of important commodities, such as grains, commercial beans, sugar beets, and the raising of cattle and sheep, which require less labor expense and less risk, that farmers are being weaned from growing difficult seed crops.

Many of the biennials require two years to produce, and often at harvest time adverse weather conditions prevail, preventing these crops from measuring up to the federal standards of germination. Thus, many times our farmer growers who have produced seed for many years, say to us: "Why should we risk putting two years' work on a crop, and then if it fails to germinate to your satisfaction we have worked for nothing."

We predict that if our government continues with its support prices on key commodities that can be harvested with combines and little help, we will have a difficult time in further interesting farmers in seed production. Consequently we forecast that prices for crop 1948 will be equally as high, and possibly some higher, so any items that you have bought under contract, either from our company or other seedsmen, are well bought and possibly cannot be replaced at the '47 contract levels.

BEANS — WAX AND GREEN PODS — Crops have fallen below our earliest reports, and it looks as though we would be making short deliveries of Stringless Black Valentines, Dwarf Horticultural, Dwarf Horticultural Long Pod, Florida Belle, Longgreen, Plentiful, Red Valentine, and Red Valentine Stringless. Commodore, failure. Highland Sulphur, not over 40%. Cherokee Wax, 100%. Round Pod Kidney and Kinghorn Special White Seeded Wax, 75%. The definite delivery depends upon frost in Idaho, and snows in Wyoming.

POLE BEANS — We anticipate short deliveries — Genuine Cornfield, Dutch Caseknife, White Half Runner, King Mammoth Horticultural, Kentucky Wonder Wax, McCaslan, Missouri Wonder, White Half Runner. Tennessee Wonder — Failure.

BUSH LIMAS — Pro Rata Delivery — Burpee's Improved Bush, Cangreen, Henderson's Bush, Jackson Wonder, Wood's Prolific. Crops are now being processed, but conditions warrant short deliveries. We are unable to determine exact amounts at present.

HYBRID SWEET CORNS — Much of our sweet corn is grown in Idaho, for which we can be very thankful this year, for if the acreage had been in some of our eastern states the deliveries would be quite embarrassing, as the weather was seriously against the growing of Corn. We hope to make 100% delivery on all varieties, provided that said corn does not go under our fieldmen's estimates. There are limited surpluses, and we look for an active and higher market.

OPEN POLLINATED SWEET CORN — We hope to make full delivery, but there is a possibility of pro-rata of Stowell's Evergreen.

ROASTING EAR CORN — Most of this is grown in Ohio, and conditions were the opposite to Idaho. The Spring was cold and wet, and planting was done late. We definitely feel that there will be a pro-rata delivery of about 75% on Trucker's Favorite and Norfolk Market. Silverking and Silvermine will be short.

TRUCKERS HYBRID A — Full delivery with a moderate surplus. POP CORNS will be delivered in full.

PEAS — Although the crops have not been large and acreage was reduced, we expect to make full delivery of all varieties, unless there might be a possible shortage develop of Laxton Superb.

BEET, SWISS CHARD, MANGEL, BROCCOLI, BRUSSEL SPROUTS — Full delivery.

CABBAGE — Northwest crops were better than anticipated, although the acreage was not large. But the seed that did develop was of excellent quality. We expect to make full delivery, and have some excellent stocks of Mammoth Red Rock, Long Island Savoy and Glory of Enkhuizen available.

CANTALOUPE — From present indications, full delivery, although seed is only now being processed.

CARROT — 100% delivery, and we still have a limited surplus of NANTES HALF LONG (STRONG TOP).

CAULIFLOWER, CELERY, CHICORY, COLLARDS, CORN SALAD, CRESS, CUCUMBER — Full deliveries.

DILL — Full delivery, EGG PLANT — SHORT. Crops affected by drought and early frost.

ENDIVE, FENNEL, KALE — Full delivery.

KOHL RABI — PURPLE VIENNA and WHITE VIENNA — Very short, although we are making full delivery. Nevertheless, the seed is short.

LEEK, LETTUCE, ROMAINE, MUSTARD — Full deliveries.

OKRA — Promises only fair. Crops now being harvested. It depends upon the month of October as to how the crop turns out.

ONION, PARSLEY, PARSNIP — Full deliveries.

PEPPER — All varieties 100%, although the crop is just fair. However short delivery of Long Red Cayenne is to be expected.

PUMPKIN, RADISH, RHUBARB, SALSIFY, SORREL, SPINACH, SUMMER SQUASH, WINTER SQUASH — All full deliveries.

TOMATO — CERTIFIED and UNCERTIFIED — Several crops are late, and some unharvested. If the late crops come in and the germination is satisfactory, we should make full delivery, although there is a possible shortage of Certified Rutgers and Marglobe.

TURNIP — The crop this past year was only fair, but full delivery on all contracts has been made. The stocks however are limited, and we look for firm prices.

WATERMELON — All full delivery, with the exception of Florida Favorite.

IMPORTANT! Should you have any specific items with us under contract on which you would like definite delivery information within the next thirty days, kindly write us.

In the meantime we wish to thank you for the courtesy shown our various branches and the representatives who have called on you, and may we at Milford express to you our appreciation for the nice business that you have given us. Many thanks.

The Storage of Vegetable Seeds

EVERY GROWER AND DEALER in seeds must of necessity carry over some seeds from one season to the next. It is incorrect to think that seeds are not and should not be held over, but seeds are living things and must be treated accordingly.

How Long Will Seeds Remain Good?

This question cannot be answered briefly or simply. Some kinds do not naturally retain their vitality as long as other kinds, but most seeds are good for more than one year if stored under proper conditions. Actually, seeds are greatly affected by the weather conditions prevailing while they were being grown and harvested. That is, seeds grown under ideal conditions will ordinarily remain viable longer than the same kind grown under adverse conditions, even though the germination of both were high at the start.

Storing Seeds

In general, all kinds of seeds should be kept in a place that is cool and dry. Keep seeds away from heat and hot, dry places during sale and storage. Don't store seeds in a damp basement nor in a hot attic. No amount of dry cold will injure dry seeds.

Except under unusual conditions, cold storage, is not recommended, because cold storages are usually humid, and seeds are injured as much by high humidity as by heat, and a combination of the two is most damaging.

Many seeds attract insects which eat the germ and frequently leave webs. Small lots of seeds may be kept in mason jars, larger lots in drawers or cartons in which has been placed a little paradichlorobenzene ("Dichlorocide") or some Spergon-DDT, which has also given good results when some of the powder is sprinkled on the top layer of seed in a bag and the bag then tied down closely and tightly.

For a technical discussion of seed storage problems, send 5c coin to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C., for a copy of U.S.D.A. Leaflet No. 220, "Storage of Vegetable Seeds."

Identification

You may have noticed that vegetable seeds (except when in paper containers) come to you with a variety tag on the outside and a similar tag or label on the inside of each bag. This is an example of how careful the seedsmen is to preserve the identity of each lot of seeds. You should be equally careful to identify the seeds in your possession. See that all are carefully marked before you store them.

Testing Seeds

Practically all seed laws require that seeds be tested periodically for germination. Bear this in mind and have your carried-over seeds retested by a good seed laboratory before the spring season opens. Make a note on your calendar. As much as your supplier would like to cooperate with you, he has neither the time nor the facilities to retest your seed for you, for he has to take care of all his new and untested seeds in a short period of time, to make them available for spring delivery.

PROTECT SEEDS WITH

Spergon

A new fungicide for treating seeds, with resulting increases in stand and yield. Suitable for any kind of seeds, it is SAFE for delicate seeds and safer for the operator, PROTECTS against "damping off" and seed decay, STIMULATES growth, healthy plants and higher yields. It may be used with inoculants, and peas treated with it require no granite. It retains its strength, coats evenly, adheres well. Contains no mercury or copper.
